

Overview

Data means information.

You can collect data using questionnaires and tally forms. You can present your data in different ways to make it easier for people to see what you found out.

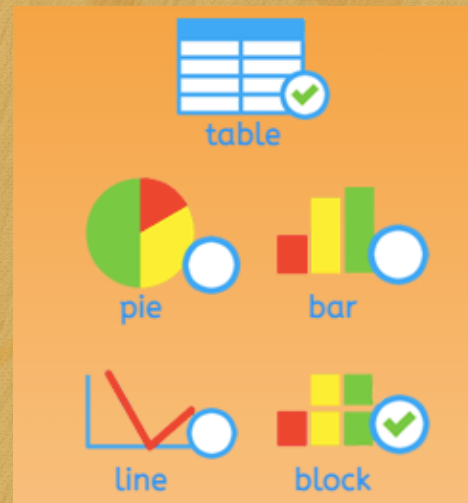

Software we can use to create charts

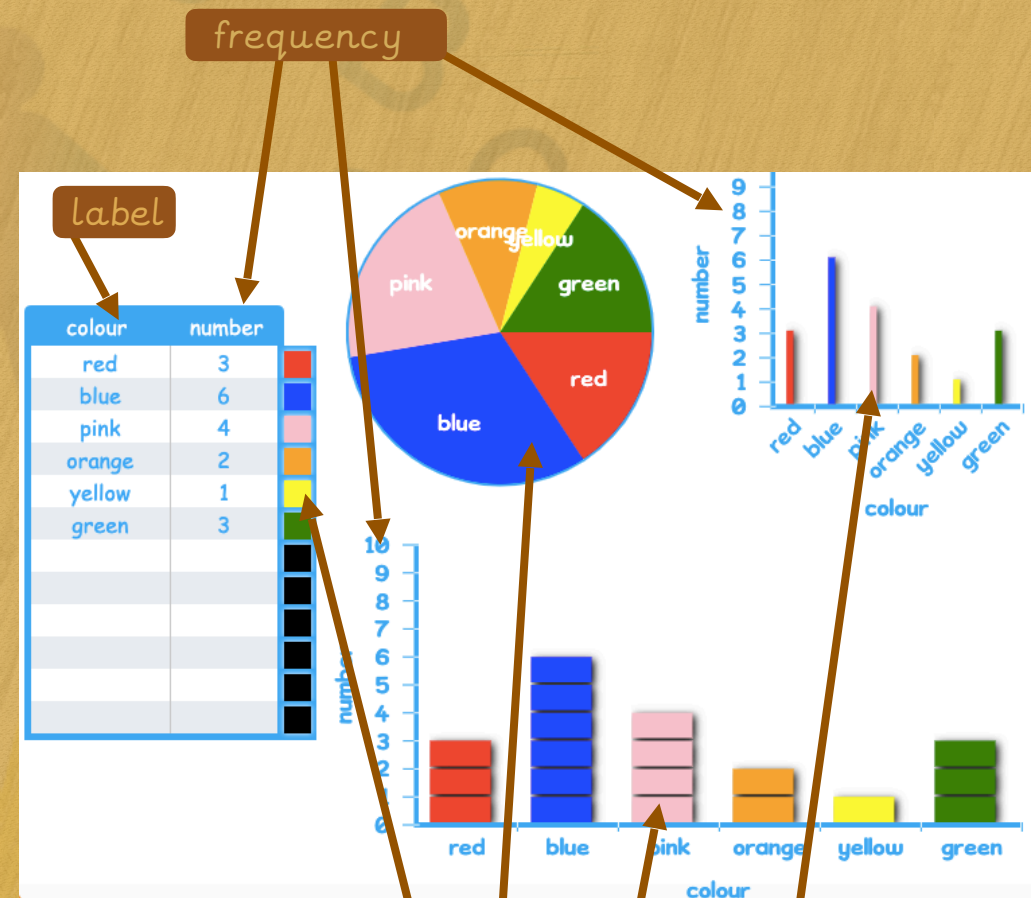

You can collect your data using a table.

You can choose different types of charts to present your data.

Data Handling Basics

data block chart pictogram edit tally most popular least popular