Tom Fletcher

Tom Fletcher made his name in the band McFly, before becoming an author.

He co-wrote his first children's book, The Dinosaur That Pooped Christmas, with band-mate Dougie Poynter, which became the most popular debut children's novel of that year. His first solo novel, The Christmasaurus, was published in 2016.

He has now published books for a variety of ages, from board books for the very young like The Dinosaur that Pooped Daddy, to The Creakers for ages 8+. He works hard to promote children's literacy and has been part of World Book Day with the Brain Freeze book in 2018.

As well as writing, Tom continues to be a singer-songwriter and guitarist.
