Sarah McIntyre & Philip Reeve

Sarah McIntyre is an illustrator and author. She is easy to spot in her pointy glasses and hats. She has written and illustrated her own books and comics, and also illustrates books for other authors.

Philip Reeve is also an illustrator and author. He worked as an illustrator for Horrible Histories for many years. He wrote his first novel in 2001.

Together they have created their own book series. They brainstorm the story ideas together, then Philip writes them and Sarah illustrates them., but do occasionally swap roles for a bit. Both of them love dressing up!
