Strong and Tough

by Rico Hinson-King

There's a kid. Let's call him Charlie. On the outside he looks like every other football-mad boy of his age. But he isn't ...

Charlie, a little boy who was taken into care when he was very small, dreams of finding his forever home to share with his sisters. Sometimes he feels scared. Sometimes he wants to scream and cry - and he does, just a little - but he is strong. He is tough.
