Leah Mohammed

Leah Mohammed lives in Surrey with her daughter and their dog, Henry. After studying psychology and psychotherapy, she worked as a therapist before deciding to concentrate on her writing. Coming from a mixed English and Pakistani background, Leah's hope is to introduce diverse characters and explore different types of family dynamics in stories for everyone to enjoy.

Leah's fiction debut, Luma and the Pet Dragon is the first of a series about the adventures of a girl and her mischievous pet dragon, Timir, and it has been followed by Luma and the Hiccuping Dragon and Luma and the Grumpy Dragon. She is currently working on a brand new series, also for younger readers.
