Izzy the Inventor and the Curse of Doom

by Zanna Davidson

I have been loving the Izzy the Inventor series of books by Zanna Davidson. The adventures Izzy and Henry have are really exciting, however, the experiments you can do at home are even better!!

Izzy the Inventor is back in Fairytale Land and this time she must rescue the prince in Sleeping Beauty from a wicked fairy's curse. If she fails, he'll vanish! With the help of Henry the unicorn, Izzy needs to work out how to make snow in summer, an exploding volcano and a contraption to help Henry fly. Can Izzy's science skills outwit the wicked fairy before it's too late?
