

Author of the Week

10 June 2024

Jason Korsner

Jason Korsner has worked as a newsreader, reporter, presenter and producer for a variety of radio stations,. He has worked for BBC Breakfast News and been a TV reporter for the BBC News Channel. He is also a film-maker and photographer.

Jason has more recently started writing children's books. his first two books were written for his own children: What Can You See? uses simple rhymes while I Like To Put Food In My Welly plays with language to conjure up hilarious images for young readers. Jason has videos on his YouTube channel where he reads his books aloud in his garden. His channel also features interesting videos of illustrators talking about how they come up with their ideas.

<https://jasonkorsner.com/>

