

In the UK, we have four seasons: spring, summer, autumn and winter. Each season lasts about three months and has different weather.

Summer usually has the hottest, sunniest days. There still may be some cooler or cloudier days. On lots of days you might wear shorts, t-shirts or summer dresses. Many people go on holiday in the summer because it is warmer and drier.