

Author and Illustrator of the Month

December 2024

Yangsook Choi

Choi is the author who grew up in Korea. She began drawing at age four and delighted in telling her grandmother scary stories at night. After moving to New York to pursue her art, she has written and illustrated many books for young readers.

Her books have received several awards across the world.

When she is not creating, she loves to doodle alongside children from her community and across the globe. She has drawn with children in local shelters, mountain villages in the Himalayas, a Bedouin community in the Arabian desert, an underground shelter for North Korea refugee children in China, and an orphanage in Cambodia. She considers these children among her greatest teachers.
